PRESEASON NOTEBOOK

Welcome to Aggieland

• Billy Kennedy was named the 21st coach in Texas A&M men's basketball history on May 16, 2011 ... Kennedy is a native of New Orleans and enters his 14th season as a head coach.

• The 47-year-old Kennedy, the reining two-time Ohio Valley Conference Coach of the Year, comes to Aggieland after five seasons at the helm at Murray State University in Kentucky ... there, he guided the Racers to a winning record in each year of his tenure ... in the last two seasons, his team posted a combined 54-14 record, back-to-back Ohio Valley Conference championships and consecutive trips to the postseason.

• His teams have won 6 conference titles and made 4 trips to the postseason and has posted 7 straight winning seasons as a head coach.

• Over his last seven years as a head coach, Kennedy's teams have averaged 21 wins per season, earned four conference titles and made three trips to the postseason--two to the NCAA Tournament and one in the NIT.

• Kennedy is making a return trip to College Station, as he was an assistant on the 1990-91 team under Kermit Davis.

Championship-Caliber Staff

• Billy Kennedy has put together a veteran staff in his first season in Aggieland ... the group has a combined 89 years of collegiate coaching experience.

• Over the last decade, the group has been a part of 18 conference titles and 22 postseasons (15 NCAA, 7 NIT) ... in 2010-11, each staff member won a championship at his respective school and as a group averaged 25 wins on the year.

Big 12 Favorites

• For the first time in league history, Texas A&M has been picked to win the Big 12 Conference men's basketball championship ... the Aggies sat atop the preseason coaches' poll in a tie with Kansas.

• The previous high for an A&M team was second, in the 2006-07 season.

What's Back

• Texas A&M returns 3 starters and 10 letterwinners from a 2010-11 team that went 24-9, finished third in the Big 12 at 10-6 and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the sixth straight season.

• The 2011-12 Aggie roster will feature 25 games of NCAA Tournament experience, with Dash Harris (5), David Loubeau (5) and Elston Turner (5) leading the way.

• A&M will bring back 60 percent or more statistically in 7 of 8 major categories ...

What's New

• Texas A&M welcomes in a three-member freshman class, all hailing from the Dallas/Ft Worth area—guard Jamal Branch (Arlington), guard Jamal Branch (Flower Mound) and forward Grant Jolly (Southlake) ... in addition, the Aggies have one transfer—senior Zach Kinsley (Baton Rouge, La./Univ of New Orleans)—who is eligibile to play this fall.

Rarified Air

• Texas A&M is one of only 8 schools in the entire country that have won 24 or more games in each of the last 5 seasons (Butler, BYU, Kansas, Memphis, Pittsburgh, Texas A&M, VCU, Xavier)

• A&M is one of just 12 schools that have made the NCAA Tournament in each of the last 6 seasons (Duke, Gonzaga, Kansas, Marquette, Michigan State, Pittsburgh, Tennessee, Texas, Texas A&M, Villanova, Wisconsin, Xavier)

• The Aggies are one of only 4 Big 12 schools to post winning conference records in each of the last 3 seasons ... in fact, when looking at the "Super 6" conferences, it puts A&M in some pretty elite company ... only 18 of the 73 teams who have competed in those leagues over the last 3 years have accomplished that feat:

Big 12	4	A&M, Kansas, Kansas State, Texas
Big East	4	Louisville, Pitt, Syracuse, West Virginia
ACC	3	Clemson, Duke, Florida State
Big Ten	3	Ohio State, Purdue, Wisconsin
SEC	2	Florida, Mississippi State
Pac-10	2	Cal, Washington

Emerging Big 12 Power

• Texas A&M opened the 2009 Big 12 campaign with a 3-7 record ... from that point on (starting with an 81-66 win over Texas on Feb. 16 of that year), the Aggies have posted a 27-11 Big 12 record (6-0 to close 2009, 11-5 in 2010 and 10-6 in 2011) ... it's the second-best record over that span among conference teams, trailing only Kansas (34-4).

• Only two A&M teams won more Big 12 games than the 2011 Aggies (10): 2007 (13) and 2010 (11).

• The Aggies posted back-to-back 10-plus win seasons in Big 12 play for just the second time ever (2006-2007) ... it is only the second time in the last 25 years that an A&M team has accomplished that feat ... prior to '06-07, the last time an Aggie squad recorded consecutive double-digit win seasons in conference play was in 1985 (10) and 1986 (12).

• 2011 was A&M's third consecutive winning season in Big 12 play, the first time the Aggies have accomplished that feat in the Big 12 era ... A&M finished 9-7 in 2009 and 11-5 last year ... it marked the first time since the late 60s (1967-70) that a Texas A&M team finished above .500 in league action for three straight seasons.

• 2011 marked the seventh consecutive year that the Aggies won at least 8 Big 12 games ... A&M had never won more than 6 Big 12 games prior to 2005.

• Over the last three Big 12 seasons (2009-11), Texas A&M is a combined 18-6 in the back half of the Big 12 schedule (final 8 games of each year) ... the Aggies closed league play 6-2 in 2009, 6-2 in 2010 and 6-2 in 2011.

• The Aggies have won 49 Big 12 games since the start of the 2007 league season ... prior to that, A&M had totaled only 43 victories in the first 10 years of Big 12 play.

NCAA Tournament: Make That Six Straight

• Texas A&M is coming off its sixth straight appearance in the NCAA Tournament and 12th overall ... prior to this streak, A&M had never played in consecutive NCAA Tournaments and had not been to the NCAAs since 1987 ... 6 of the Aggies' 12 appearances, and 6 of their 9 NCAA wins, have come since 2006.

• A&M is one of just 12 schools that have made the NCAA Tournament in each of the last 6 seasons ... the Aggies join Duke, Gonzaga, Kansas, Marquette, Michigan State, Pittsburgh, Tennessee, Texas, Villanova, Wisconsin and Xavier in that elite field.

Racking Up the Ws

• Texas A&M is coming off a 24-9 season ... the Aggies reached the 24-win mark for the fifth straight year and for only the seventh time in the program's 99-year history.

• Only three A&M teams totaled more wins than the 2010-11 Aggie squad: 2006-07 (27), 1979-80 (26) and 2007-08 (25).

• The Aggies recorded their seventh-consecutive 20-win season ... before this stretch, which began in 2004-05, A&M had six in its entire history (1974-75, 1975-76, 1978-79, 1979- 80, 1981-82 and 1985-86).

• A&M, Kansas and Texas are the only Big 12 schools that have won at least 20 games in each of the last 7 seasons.

• Texas A&M has won nearly 75 percent of its games since the start of the 2006-07 season (124-45, .734) ... the Aggies are 167-63 (.726) since the start of the '04-05 campaign.

Reed Arena Dominance

• The Aggies are the only Big 12 team to win at least 15 home games for the last seven consecutive seasons.

• A&M has won 33 of its last 36 home games, including 16 of its last 19 in Big 12 play ... the Aggies are 46-5 at home since the start of the 2008-09 season with an 19-5 mark in conference games ... those losses have come to Kansas (#1), Texas (#3), Oklahoma (#5), Baylor and Kansas State.

• The Aggies are 80-8 (.909) at home since the start of the 2006-07 season and are 112-14 (.889) since the start of the 2004-05 campaign.

• A&M has won 28 of its last 29 home games against unranked opponents (12 of last 13 in Big 12 play).

• A&M is 154-56 (.733) in 13 seasons at Reed Arena ... the Aggies were 41-41 the first six years at Reed and are 113-15 since.

• The Aggies have won 60 straight non-conference games at Reed Arena ... the streak dates back to the start of the 2005-06 season and includes wins over Arizona, Alabama, LSU and Washington, among others ... the last home non-conference loss for the Aggies was to St. Joseph's (58-51) in the 2005 NIT quarterfinals ... A&M is 92-9 all-time in non-conference games at Reed (.911).

• Texas A&M has won 73 consecutive regular-season non-conference home games ... the last non-conference team to beat the Aggies at Reed Arena was Texas A&M-Corpus Christi (82-80) in 2003.

• Texas A&M has averaged crowds of 9,000 or better for five straight seasons (averaged 9,000 in 2010-11).

2011-12 Schedule: A Look Ahead

• Texas A&M will play a minimum of 11 games against NCAA Tournament teams this season and host 19 games at Reed Arena.

• The Aggies will play at least three games against teams that advanced to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament this past March in Florida and Kansas—and that's not counting a potential matchup with another Elite Eight squad in Arizona.

• A minimum of 21 of A&M's games this year will come against teams with .500 or better records last season.

• In addition, every Big 12 team will visit Reed Arena this winter for the first time in history, as the league will feature the only double round-robin format in the nation among the six major conferences.

• A&M will make its first trek to Madison Square Garden since winning the 2007 NIT ... the Aggies will participate in the 2K Sports Classic Benefitting Coaches vs Cancer ... A&M will host Liberty (Nov. 9) in a regional round game at Reed Arena, then open semifinal action at MSG against Mississippi State (Nov. 17) ... the Aggies will face either Arizona or St. John's in the final game of the tourney (Nov. 18).

• Texas A&M will battle Florida in the MetroPCS Orange Bowl Classic on Saturday, Dec. 17 at the BankAtlantic Center in Sunrise, Fla. (home of the NHL's Florida Panthers) ... the game will tip at 1:30 p.m. (CT) and will be the second of a doubleheader, which also features Miami and FAU (11 a.m. CT).

• The schedule this winter features 3 teams that the Aggies have never faced—Arkansas Tech, Liberty and St. John's.

Aggies' Summer Features European Tour

• Texas A&M coach Billy Kennedy got an early start to his tenure in Aggieland with a 10-day tour of Europe in August. In what was the program's first foreign excursion since 2003, the team spent time in Switzerland (Lucerne and Bern) and France (Paris).

• A&M played 4 games—a pair against the Swiss National Team and two more against AMW Elite, which is a group comprised of players that participate in the French pro leagues (LNB A and B) ... the Aggies dropped both games to the Swiss (62-51 and 85-73) before sweeping AMW (90-61 and 80-78) to finish 2-2.

• The Aggies averaged 73.5 points per game and dominated their opponents on the boards (46 to 34) ... leading scorers were Elston Turner (13.8 ppg), Khris Middleton (12.0), David Loubeau (11.3) and Kourtney Roberson (8.0) ... leading rebounders were Loubeau (9.3 rpg) and Roberson (7.0).

Odds and Ends

• Khris Middleton participated in the USA Basketball World University Games team training camp, held in late July in Colorado Springs ... he was one of 21 collegians selected to participate in the event.

• Middleton was also a unanimous selection to the preseason All-Big 12 team, voted on by the league's head coaches ... he became the first Aggie selected to the squad since Bryan Davis in the fall of 2007.

• JERSEY CHANGES: #2 Naji Hibbert (from #23) ... #12 Blake McDonald (from #00) ... #20 Daniel Alexander (from #15).

REED ARENA

Reed Arena is in its 14th season as the home of Texas A&M basketball. The 12,989-seat facility opened in 1998. The arena floor encompasses 25,000 square feet and has exhibit space for 200 booths. It also can handle banquets for up to 2,000 people. The arena is named for Houston veterinarian Chester J. What They're Saying...

"Jamal is an ultra-talented point guard. He can do it all. He can make plays for everyone and can shoot a bit. He will only get better each day. He brings a `wow' factor to the gym. He makes special plays and makes things happen. All he talks about is A&M. We are very happy for him. We know he'll go there and be successful."

—Ray Forsett, Grace Prep Head Coach

"Jamal is a silky-smooth point guard with a complete feel and understanding of the game. He plays under control at all times, has a great change of pace/change of direction dribble to create separation and get into the paint and sees the whole floor. He has a soft stroke out to the 3-point line, can create his shot or get into the paint and dish to the open man. He is a very savvy player who knows when to go hard and when to slow it down and has a calming influence on his teammates."

—TexasHoops.com

"Jamal Branch is a terrific pick up for Texas A&M. His passing ability is impressive and he's a guy that knows how to lead a team. At the high school level, he's proven he's one of the top lead guards nationally. Because of his ability to run a program, attack the basket and get teammates involved I expect big things out of him at Texas A&M."

—Evan Daniels, National Recruiting Analyst, scout.com

"Jamal Branch is one of the top point guards in the country and brings a lot of versatility to the floor. He has tremendous size for the position which means he can also play shooting guard. Branch is a good decision maker and has the tools to be a high level defender at the point or shooting guard position."

—Eric Bossi, National Basketball Analyst, rivals.com

"A premium in college basketball is placed on stopping penetration from the perimeter into the lane, and no one does it better in this class than Branch. He has complete lockdown capabilities on the outside, and takes pride in shutting his man down."

What They're Saying...

"We are so excited for Jordan. He's been an integral part of our program for four years. He's made great strides as a basketball player and has made our teams much better through his example of hard work and leadership. He has improved greatly every year but he's going to be the type of player that when he gets to the next level, he's just going to continue to get better. His best years of basketball are ahead of him. He's excited about A&M and we're really excited for him."

— Charles Freet, Flower Mound Head Coach

"Jordan Green is a smooth jump shooter with size, length and athleticism. He's become most known for his ability to shoot the three pointer, but he's also got a pretty well developed mid-range game and can get to the rim. With added strength, he's one of those guys who could blossom in college."

—Eric Bossi, National Basketball Analyst, Rivals.com

"Jordan is a guy that is flying more under the radar. He has a natural, smooth way about him as a perimeter scorer. The key thing here is Jordan is playing his best ball at the end of his high school career. It's not about the hype or the expectations, he's starting to round his game out. He's going to leave high school in an upswing heading to A&M."

—Dave Telep, ESPN.com

"Jordan is a long and wiry guard with the ability to slash to the rim and finish strong in traffic. He elevates quickly in the paint, has a soft touch on floaters and has excellent body control to stay out of trouble as he slices to the rim. He has a smooth stroke out to the three-point line, is a very good passer, sees the floor well in transition and has a good feel for the game. His length makes him a good defender who can get his hands on loose balls and deflect passes."

BILLY KENNEDY
Head Coach (First Year)

Alma Mater.....Southeastern Louisiana '86
Hometown.....Metairie, Louisiana
Record at A&M.....first year
Overall Record.....211-179 (13 years)

Former Murray State head coach and one-time Aggie assistant Billy Kennedy was named the 21st men's basketball coach at Texas A&M on May 16, 2011.

"I am very excited to announce that we have hired Billy Kennedy as our new men's basketball head coach," Director of Athletics Bill Byrne said. "I think he is the perfect fit for Texas A&M. In talking to several people who I respect in college basketball, they mentioned Billy as an outstanding basketball coach but an even better person. He is a winner and his players play hard for him and they play an aggressive style of defense. He has proven he can recruit nationwide, but I look for him to make more inroads here in the state of Texas. We are anxious to get Billy and his family to campus to introduce him to his team, the community and Aggies everywhere."

The 47-year-old Kennedy, the reining two-time Ohio Valley Conference Coach of the Year, comes to Aggieland after five seasons at the helm at Murray State University in Kentucky. There, he guided the Racers to a winning record in each year of his tenure. In the last two seasons, his team posted a combined 54-14 record, back-to-back Ohio Valley Conference championships and consecutive trips to the postseason.

"I can't wait to get back to Aggieland," Kennedy said. "Even though I was there for only a short time, I could tell Aggieland is a special place. Aggies have great pride and passion for their school and their athletic programs. I have watched with interest the recent success and the NCAA Tournament appearances the past six years. I look forward to meeting the team and working toward a seventh NCAA bid as well as even deeper tournament runs."

Over his last seven years as a head coach, Kennedy's teams have averaged 21 wins per season, earned four conference titles and made three trips to the postseason--two to the NCAA Tournament and one in the NIT.

Murray recently wrapped up a 23-9 campaign, one which saw the Racers capture the OVC regular-season title for the second straight year and earn a spot in the National Invitation Tournament. Kennedy won his second straight OVC Coach of the Year honor for his efforts.

In an outstanding 2009-10 season, Kennedy guided Murray State to a 31-5 mark, the OVC regular-season and tournament titles and a trip to the NCAA Tournament. There, his Racers upset Vanderbilt in the first round--the program's first tourney win since 1988--before falling in the final seconds of the second round to eventual national runner-up Butler. It was the best season in the program's 85-year history.

Kennedy was named NABC District-19 Coach of the Year following the 2009-10 season and was also a finalist for the Skip Prosser Award and Hugh Durham Award. The Racers were also honored with the OVC Men's Basketball Sportsmanship Award in voting by the leagues' head coaches.

In Kennedy's five seasons at MSU, the Racers went 70-24 in OVC play en route to two league championships and three runner-up finishes.

Kennedy came to Murray State after serving the 2005-06 season as an assistant to current Missouri coach Frank Haith at the University of Miami. During that stint, Kennedy helped lead the Hurricanes to the quarterfinals of the NIT with an 18-16 record and wins that year over North Carolina, Maryland, Wake Forest and Oklahoma State.

Before Miami, Kennedy was the head coach for six seasons at his alma mater, Southeastern Louisiana. In his final two seasons at SLU, Kennedy guided the Lions to a 44-18 record, two Southland Conference regular-season titles and the school's first-ever trip to the NCAA Tournament.

He was named Coach of the Year by the Louisiana Sports Writers Association, the Louisiana Association of Basketball Coaches and the National Association of Basketball Coaches (District 8) in back-to-back years, and was named SLC Coach of the Year in 2004.

His 2004-05 squad posted a 24-9 record, the best in school history, won its second consecutive Southland Conference title with a 13-3 league mark, claimed the school's first conference tournament championship and advanced to face Oklahoma State in the NCAA Tournament.

Prior to taking over at SLU, Kennedy spent two seasons (1997-99) as head coach at Centenary College where he was able to turn the program around in just two seasons. Centenary went from only six wins in 1997-98 to a 14-14 mark in his final season.

Before his first head coaching job at Centenary, the Metairie, La., native spent 11 seasons as an assistant coach at seven Division I schools, including Texas A&M for the 1990-91 season. Kennedy's other stops included New Orleans, Wyoming, Northwestern State, Tulane, Creighton and California.

He helped lead New Orleans to the second round of the NCAA Tournament in 1987. That year, UNO was a 13-seed when they upset 2-seed BYU before falling to Alabama. Kennedy also assisted Wyoming's run to the NCAA Tournament in 1988. During his four seasons at California, the Golden Bears had two 20-win seasons and made three appearances in the NCAA Tournament--with one trip to the Sweet 16.

He earned a solid reputation as a recruiter early in his career while an assistant at Cal, where three of his classes were considered among the best in the nation. Kennedy recruited Shareef Abdur-Rahim and Tony Gonzalez to the Cal program.

His 2009-10 Murray State team dominated the court on defense and were part of a group of only eight teams that led their conference in overall field-goal percentage (.499) and field-goal percentage defense (.387). The Racers led the OVC in scoring defense, field goal percentage defense, three-point percentage defense, blocked shots and steals, while holding the opponent's leading scorer under his average in 31 of 36 games.

Under Kennedy's watch, the Racers led the league in defending the three-point shot for the four his five seasons and scoring defense in each of the last three seasons. His team ranked in the top four in field-goal percentage defense every year, leading the league three times.

Kennedy, 47, received his Bachelor of Arts degree in social studies education from Southeastern Louisiana University in 1986. He was a star basketball player at Holy Cross High School in New Orleans before attending Delgado Community College, where he earned an associate of arts degree in general studies in 1984.

He is still a big fan of his hometown team, the New Orleans Saints, and was thrilled to see the Saints win the Super Bowl in 2010.

A class act off the court as well, Kennedy was presented this April with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes 2011 John Lotz "Barnabas" Award at the Final Four in Houston. The award is presented by the FCA to a basketball coach who best exhibits a commitment to Christ, integrity, encouragement to others and lives a balanced life.

Kennedy is married to the former Mary Ethredge, and he has four children, Will, Lexie, Brooks and Anna Cate.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING...

"I was recruited by Coach Kennedy and I have remained close friends with him throughout. My younger brother (Amir) played for Billy at Southeastern Louisiana and then coached with him at Murray State before taking a job recently at Georgia Tech. His basketball success and coaching ability speaks for itself, but what has impressed me most is his consistency of being a good person all of these years. When I was recruited, it was about how you carry yourself, both on and off of the basketball court. It was about the total person, not just being a basketball player. He has remained the same, all of these years. I have a son who is nine and if he is fortunate enough to be considered as a Division I-caliber basketball player, I would want him to play for Coach Billy Kennedy. I know Billy would care for him and help develop the entire person."

San Antonio Spurs GM R.C. Buford:

"I was first met Billy when he was at Texas A&M and then he did some part-time scouting for the Spurs. I have a great respect for him and his basketball coaching abilities, as well as for the type of person he is. Personally, I am excited for Billy, but I am equally excited for Texas A&M because he will do a great job of leading the basketball program. He is a very good team builder and mentor for these young men. He is about family. His wife and daughter are part of the basketball family. He develops a great environment to be able to achieve success on the basketball court and in life. I have a great respect for him and he is a high character person and an outstanding coach."

Vanderbilt Head Coach Kevin Stallings:

"I have known Billy for a number of years and he is an outstanding basketball coach. More importantly, he is a person of great moral and ethical character. He has a high level of integrity and Texas A&M has hired a good coach, but an even better person."

Missouri Head Coach Frank Haith:

"I couldn't be happier for Billy. He is a great coach, a great friend and an even better person. The fit in College Station is an outstanding one. Billy has had a great deal of success recruiting in the southwest, in particular the states of Texas and Louisiana, so Texas A&M is getting an excellent coach who will fit the long-term vision of that university."

LEADERSHIP

GLYNN CYPRIEN
Associate Head Coach (First Year)

Alma Mater..... UTSA '04
Hometown..... New Orleans, Louisiana

Glynn Cyprien—widely considered one of the top coaches and recruiters in the country—is in his first season as associate head basketball coach at Texas A&M.

A native of New Orleans, Cyprien comes to Aggieland after two seasons as an assistant at Memphis. His recent stops have also included Kentucky, Arkansas and Oklahoma State.

"I'm excited to bring Cyp on board here at A&M," new Aggie head coach Billy Kennedy said. "First and foremost, he's a great friend. We started our coaching careers together back in New Orleans. He's a great recruiter. He's been to the Final Four with Oklahoma State. He knows this league, he knows Texas, and he's an excellent basketball coach that will develop the kids to where I want them to be. So to have someone like that join me, with the experience he has and the relationship we have, is tremendous."

Over the last 17 years of his coaching career, Cyprien has been a part of 15 winning seasons, with 14 of those teams making postseason play (10 NCAA, 4 NIT). In his entire 23-year collegiate coaching tenure, he has worked with 15 20-win teams and been a postseason participant 15 times. In addition, Cyprien has hauled in numerous top-flight recruiting classes, including the nation's No. 1 crop in 2009.

In his two seasons at Memphis, Cyprien helped guide the Tigers to 49 wins and back-to-back postseason trips. In 2011, Memphis went 25-10, won the Conference USA Tournament title and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. He was key in landing in the nation's No. 1 recruiting class in 2009, an effort for which he was named one of college basketball's "hoops recruiters extraordinaire" by Yahoo! Sports national writer Jason King in 2010.

Cyprien's two most recent stops prior to Memphis came at SEC hoops powers Kentucky and Arkansas. From 2007-09 he helped the Wildcats to a combined 40-27 record and back-to-back postseason appearances (2008 NCAA, 2009 NIT). In his one year at Arkansas, Cyprien and the Razorbacks went 21-14 and made a trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Prior to his stop in Fayetteville, Cyprien was an associate head coach at New Mexico State, where he helped the Aggies improve from 6-24 in 2005 to 16-14 in 2006--the second-best turnaround in the country that season.

Before his one year at NMSU, Cyprien had an outstanding run as an assistant on Eddie Sutton's staff at Oklahoma State from 2000-04. In his four years in Stillwater, the Cowboys had a combined 97-32 record and earned four-straight NCAA Tournament berths. Cyprien's final year at Oklahoma State was one of the best in the school's history, as the Cowboys went 31-4 and advanced to the NCAA Final Four.

While at UNLV from 1995-2000, it was Cyprien's recruiting efforts that got the Runnin' Rebels back on the national stage. His 1997 recruiting class was rated the best in the nation by The Sporting News and Basketball Times, and the 1999 class was No. 2 in the country according to Hoop Scoop. Those classes translated into four-straight winning seasons and four-consecutive postseason bids (2 NCAA, 2 NIT) from 1997-2000.

Before his move to Las Vegas, Cyprien spent a season at Western Kentucky in 1994-95. The Hilltoppers had a tremendous campaign, compiling a 27-4 record, sweeping the Sun Belt Conference regular season and tournament titles and advancing to the NCAA Tournament second round. Western Kentucky was ranked No. 21 in the final national polls, and the Hilltoppers' recruiting class that season was rated 10th-best in the country.

Cyprien began his coaching career with stops at UTSA (1987-90), Lamar University (1990-91) and Jacksonville (1991-94). While at Texas-San Antonio, he helped the Roadrunners earn the school's first NCAA Tournament berth in 1988, his first year with the program.

Cyprien lettered two seasons as a player at Southern University-New Orleans. In 2004, he earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from UTSA.

He has been a long-time member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches (NABC) and the Black Coaches Association (BCA). Cyprien and his wife, Monique, have two children--Asia and Karter.

Prior to his stint with the Jayhawks, Keller served nine years on the Oklahoma State men's basketball staff under head coaches Eddie Sutton and Sean Sutton. As director of basketball operations and assistant coach at OSU, Keller helped in recruiting, on the floor coaching, scouting, academics and team travel. In Stillwater, Keller served as an assistant coach from 1999-2002, as the director of basketball operations from 2002-06 and assistant coach from 2006-08.

Keller has also coached numerous NBA players including the aforementioned All-Americans as well as Maurice Baker, Stephen Graham, Desmond Mason, Ivan McFarlin, Melvin Sanders at Oklahoma State and P.J. Brown and Kaniel Dickens during other coaching stints.

Keller was on staff for OSU's run to the 2004 Final Four, two Elite Eight teams in 2000 and 2004 and three Sweet 16 appearances. The Cowboys advanced to postseason play nine times, including six NCAA Tournaments during Keller's tenure. Additionally, OSU's 2006 recruiting class was ranked No. 1 byRivals.com.

A native of Dallas, Keller returned to Stillwater after spending several years at the NCAA Division I and junior college levels. He spent the 1997-98 and 1998-99 seasons as head coach at Tyler (Texas) Junior College and guided the Apaches to the Region XIV playoffs both seasons.

Keller started his coaching career on the Louisiana Tech staff from 1990-94 where the Bulldogs advanced to the postseason twice. From Ruston, he went to Tyler Junior College as an assistant coach the next two years, advancing to the regional playoffs and national tournament. He then served one season on staff at Texas-San Antonio (1996-97) before returning as head coach at Tyler JC.

Keller earned his bachelor's degree in business management from OSU in 1990 and his master's degree in human relations and supervision from Louisiana Tech in 1991. He was a student assistant coach as an undergrad at OSU, a staff which included current KU head coach Bill Self.

Keller is married to the former Chaunsea Olin, a native of Liberal, Kan. The couple has a daughter, Kenzie, and a son, Kemper.

MITCH COLE
First Year at Texas A&M

Alma Mater.....Montana State-Billings '92
Hometown..... New Orleans, Louisiana

Former Birmingham Southern College Head Coach Mitch Cole enters his first season on Billy Kennedy's Texas A&M basketball staff.

Cole is coming off one of the most successful seasons in BSC men's basketball history, leading the Panthers to a 23-4 overall record in 2010-11 and winning the Southern Collegiate Athletic Conference Championship with a 14-2 conference mark. Upon Cole's departure, the Panthers held one of the nation's longest home winning streaks, having won its last 30 games in Bill Battle Coliseum. The Panthers ended the season by winning the NCAA Division III Provisional Tournament Championship in Steubenville, Ohio. As a result of the team's success, Cole was named D3hoops South Region Coach of the Year.

Taking over as the college's 12th men's head basketball coach in 2006, Cole was charged with rebuilding the program from scratch as a result of BSC's move from NCAA Division I to Division III. He quickly built the Panther program into a contender, achieving a 13-12 record with 15 freshmen in 2007-08. Two years later, the Panthers won the SCAC East Division title with a 20-5 mark. In his last two seasons at BSC, Cole's teams went 43-9, leading the SCAC in scoring each year.

Cole spent 11 seasons as an assistant coach under Hall of Fame Coach Duane Reboul. He was instrumental in the success of the program, which amassed over 300 wins during his tenure at BSC. In 2000, Cole assisted in the transition from the NAIA to NCAA Division I. Despite recruiting and coaching with a ban on post-season play for five seasons, Cole still managed to successfully recruit and develop players who would propel BSC into immediate success in Division I. After a successful 19-9 season in 2002-2003, BSC went 20-7 in 2003-04 and won the Big South Conference Championship. That season, the Panthers led all of Division I in 3-point field goal percentage, shooting an astounding 43% from the arc.

From 1996-2000, the Panthers made five consecutive trips to the NAIA National Tournament. Cole helped direct an offense that was ranked No. 1 in the nation in three-point field goal percentage during the 96-97, 97-98, and 98-99 seasons. The Panthers continually ranked in the top five in field goal percentage, and led the nation in 1997-98. During his 16 years at BSC, Cole recruited and developed numerous All-American and All-Conference performers while achieving one of the nation's highest graduation rates.

Before arriving at BSC in 1995, Cole received his Master's of Education from Auburn University. While there, he worked as a graduate assistant with the basketball program under Cliff Ellis, working with the team in the areas of player development and strength and conditioning.

Prior to his stint at Auburn, Cole began his career as a volunteer assistant coach at Southeastern Louisiana University in 1992. While serving at the Hammond, La., school, Cole's responsibilities included floor coaching, scouting opponents, and administrative duties.

In the summer of 1993, Cole coached an Athletes in Action team which toured the Philippines and competed against both professional and college teams throughout the country. Cole has conducted basketball clinics in the Philippines, Spain, Venezuela, Germany and Latvia, and has helped several of his former players continue their careers professionally overseas.

A student of the game, Cole began the Southern Basketball Coaching Academy, which has attracted high school, college, and pro coaches from around the nation to Birmingham to exchange ideas on coaching philosophy and leadership.

A New Orleans, La., native, Cole graduated from Holy Cross High School in 1988. He played collegiately at Montana State University-Billings, where he double majored in history and education and graduated in 1992. He and his wife, Amy, have three children: daughter Laura Kate and sons Carson and Joshua.

STEPHEN GENTRY

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS
FIFTH YEAR AT TEXAS A&M
GONZAGA '05

Stephen Gentry is in his fifth season with the Texas A&M men's basketball program, and first as director of operations under Billy Kennedy.

Gentry spent his first four seasons in Aggieland as coach Mark Turgeon's video coordinator. He came to A&M after one year as a video intern for the NBA's Miami Heat and legendary Head Coach Pat Riley. The Heat won the Southeast Division of the Eastern Conference in Gentry's season with the franchise.

Prior to his stint with the Heat, Gentry played four seasons of college basketball at Gonzaga, lettering three times as a guard. He was teammates with Adam Morrison, the 2006 college player of the year. During Gentry's four years, the Zags built a 107-20 record, winning four straight West Coast Conference titles. DARBY RICH

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH
FIRST YEAR AT TEXAS A&M
ALABAMA '92

Darby Rich, a former basketball player at Alabama and a staff member on eight NCAA Tournament teams, is in his first year as strength and conditioning coach of the Texas A&M basketball program.

Basing his training on Olympic movements with an emphasis on explosive power development and functional strength as it pertains to the game of basketball, Rich's program development focuses on both team and individual needs, as well as an added emphasis on the prevention of injuries. Maximizing each student-athlete's physical potential and athletic performance is his goal.

Rich spent five seasons (2004-09) as the strength and conditioning coach for the University of Oklahoma's basketball team. During his tenure, the Sooners made the NCAA Tournament four times (20005, 2006, 2008, 2009) and claimed the 2005 Big 12 Championship. In his final season in Norman, OU went 30-6 and advanced to the NCAA Elite 8.

At Oklahoma, Rich worked with Blake Griffin, who was selected first overall by the Los Angeles Clippers in the 2009 NBA Draft, and Taylor Griffin, who was taken with the 48th overall pick of the 2009 Draft by the Phoenix Suns. He left following the 2008-09 season to work as a personal strength coach for pro golfer Anthony Kim, who won the 2010 Shell Houston Open and was third at the 2010 Master's.

Rich joined the Oklahoma program after serving the previous two seasons as South Carolina's men's basketball strength coach, where he helped the Gamecocks to 35 wins and the program's only NCAA Tournament berth in the previous 14 seasons. Rich also served as USC's women's basketball strength coach during that time, working with NCAA Tournament teams in 2003 and 2004.

Prior to his stint with South Carolina, Rich spent a year and a half as strength and conditioning intern with the NFL's Dallas Cowboys. He began that position, working under former Oklahoma strength coach Joe Jurazsek, in May 2001.

Before making the temporary move to football, Rich spent three seasons (1998-99 through 2000-01) as an assistant coach at Sam Houston State. Working for head coach Bob Marlin, he helped the Bearkats win the school's first Southland Conference title (2000) and recorded the school's highest Division I victory total for a season (22 in 2000). Rich rejoined Marlin at SHSU in December 2009 as a volunteer assistant coach, helping Marlin's team win the 2010 Southland Conference regular season and tournament championships. The Bearkats made their second appearance all-time in the NCAA Tournament that year, dropping a tight first-round game to an eventual Elite 8 opponent.

Rich began his college coaching career at Hutchinson (Kan.) Community College, serving from 1994 to 1998 as an assistant coach. Aloing with his assistant coaching responsibilities, Rich also served as HCC's strength and conditioning coach. Hutchinson was 117-24 during his tenure and won the 1994 NJCAA national title.

An All-State basketball player at Riverside High School in Greer, S.C., Rich played five seasons at Alabama. He served as a tri-captain his senior year (1992) with future NBA stars Robert Horry and Latrell Sprewell. He was a member of the Crimson Tide's 1989, 1990 and 1991 SEC championship teams and was a three-time SEC academic honor roll selection.

A 1992 Alabama graduate with a degree in criminal justice, Rich and his wife, Jennifer, wed in September 2006. The couple welcomed their first child, Case, in August 2011.

BILL BYRNE

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS
NINTH YEAR AT TEXAS A&M
IDAHO STATE '67

Bill Byrne is in his ninth year of Building Champions as Director of Athletics at Texas A&M University.

With more than 25 years experience as a Division I athletic director, Byrne has impressive credentials and a track record for producing champions on and off the field.

Since Byrne was introduced to Aggieland in December of 2002, the Aggies have won 41 Big 12 Conference Championships in 11 different sports and captured seven team national championships in equestrian, six in outdoor track and field, one in women's basketball, and one in men's golf. The 40 championships won by the Aggies from January 2003 through the end of the 2011 season rank second in the league. The Aggies' 32 conference championships won during the last five seasons combined are the second most of any school.

The 2010-11 athletic season was a record setting campaign as A&M captured four national championships, and nine Big 12 Championships. Both marks were school-bests.

In the prestigious Learfield Director's Cup all-sport rankings, Byrne has guided A&M to its six highest finishes in school history, include back-to-back top eight finishes. The Aggies completed the 2009-10 season ranked 6th in the nation — its best finish ever. In 2010-11, the Aggies tallied their most points ever and finished 8th to lead the Big 12 Conference.

In the inaugural Capital One Cup which tracks team's final rankings, the Aggies were the top ranking team from the Big 12. The Aggie women finished second with five top 10 finishes, while the Aggie men finished tied for third with five top 10 finishes.

Under Byrne's leadership, the department has made significant upgrades in facilities and increased revenue opportunities, while remaining focused on winning on the playing field and in the classroom.

Byrne manages an annual athletic budget in excess of $75 million. During his tenure at A&M, he has overseen the construction or renovation of approximately $85 million in athletic facilities. Byrne teamed with the 12th Man Foundation, the institution's primary fundraising organization for athletics, to develop a comprehensive plan for A&M's athletic facilities. Together, they secured several major gifts for the second and third phases of A&M's Championship Vision Capital Campaign raising over $100 million.

The cornerstone of Phase Three of the campaign is the renovation and expansion of A&M's baseball stadium Olsen Field. The $26 million project is scheduled for completion in February of 2012 and will make the 31-year old facility a premier college baseball destination. Thanks to a $7 million lead gift by Ed and Howard Kruse, the stadium will be named Olsen Field at Blue Bell Park.

Citing the need for an indoor football facility and an indoor track and field stadium, Byrne ensured the multi-purpose $36 million McFerrin Athletic Center became a reality in 2007 and 2008, respectively as part of Phase Two. The complex boasts a full sized football field, a state-of-the-art hydraulic track capable of hosting national championships, and seating for 5,000 spectators.

At the same time, Byrne recognized the need for a basketball practice facility that would allow the basketball teams to each have their own practice courts, locker rooms, a weight room, an athletic training room, and offices under the same roof. In the fall of 2008, the $23 million Cox-McFerrin Center for Aggie Basketball opened its doors as part of an expansion to Reed Arena.

Known as one of the most innovative and influential leaders in terms of marketing, Byrne has made an impressive impact in marketing Aggie Athletics. In January of 2006, A&M awarded the school's athletic multimedia marketing rights for 10 years to a joint venture of Learfield Communications, ISP Sports, and FSN Southwest – known collectively as Texas A&M Sports Properties. The agreement is one of the top multimedia rights contracts in the country and provides significant income for A&M athletics throughout the length of the agreement.

The forward-thinking Byrne tabbed the guaranteed revenue from the Learfield agreement to finance the department's ambitious video screen and ribbon board expansion project which included Kyle Field, Reed Arena, and a portable video screen mounted on a 53-foot 18-wheeler. He also expanded the department's nationally recognized television production operation, 12th Man Productions.

Success on the field, coupled with a focus on the school's in-game marketing, helped boost attendance across the board resulting in increased season ticket revenue. Under Byrne's leadership, season ticket sales for men's and women's basketball have significantly increased since 2003 – men's basketball has grown by 86 percent and women's basketball by an impressive 302 percent.

Increased attendance at home contests has also been aided by the creation of a fan rewards program for frequent attendance. The 12th Man Team Rewards Program is a fan-loyalty program that allows A&M's Athletic Department to thank their most dedicated fans' continued support and attendance at the school's home athletic events. Upon its inception in 2003, attendance records at A&M were immediately shattered. To date, each sport offered at A&M has set at least one new school attendance record.

While at A&M, Byrne has hired 11 head coaches in nine sports. Each hire has achieved postseason competition within their first two seasons.

Student-athletes at A&M have continued to excel in the classroom during Byrne's tenure. In the Fall of 2010, 249 student-athletes were named to the Big 12 Commissioners Honor Roll. During the Spring of 2011, 269 student-athletes earned mention on the commissioner's honor roll.

Byrne came to A&M after serving as the Athletic Director at the University of Nebraska from 1992-2002. Under his watch, the Cornhuskers won an impressive 83 Big 12 and Big Eight Conference championships. Byrne's 48 Big 12 titles ranked second in the league during his tenure at Nebraska. The Huskers also won 10 national championships, including three in football and two in women's volleyball. Together, Byrne's teams compiled an extremely impressive string of nine straight top 25 finishes in the Director's Cup Division I-A standings.

At the same time, Byrne succeeded in putting the Huskers' finances in the black while increasing the annual athletic budget threefold. A noted fundraiser, he led a $36 million football improvement project for Nebraska's Memorial Stadium. He also completed an agreement to share a $30 million baseball and softball complex with the city of Lincoln. In total, he oversaw numerous facility upgrades valued at more than $100 million.

In 1993, the innovative Byrne added big screens to Memorial Stadium, the first college stadium to undertake such a project. HuskerVision quickly became the model for all collegiate programs for big screen and in-house television production. A primary tool to promote and market all of the Nebraska athletic programs, HuskerVision generated significant sponsorship revenue for the department as well as improving fan enjoyment and atmosphere at games.

Meanwhile, Husker student-athletes excelled in the classroom, and 109 were named CoSIDA Academic All-Americans.

In 1996, the Big Eight and Southwest Conferences combined forces to form the Big 12. Byrne played a pivotal role in the formation of what has become one of the nation's powerhouse conferences.

Byrne's first role as athletic director was at the University of Oregon from 1984-1992. Byrne arrived in Eugene, Oregon in late 1982, where he served 18 months as an associate athletic director, before being appointed one of the youngest athletic directors in the country in May of 1984.

Under his watch, the Ducks captured 16 Pac 10 Conference championships and three national championships in track and field and cross country.

It was at Oregon where Byrne first earned the reputation for outstanding hiring practices. He also made major changes to the landscape of Oregon's athletic facilities and earned the nickname "Bill the Builder."

Byrne established a full-time marketing and promotions operation which formed the Oregon Sports Network for statewide, in-house production of Ducks games on television and radio. He also spearheaded the formation of Oregon's first Hall of Champions and Hall of Fame, which was later dedicated in his honor.

Byrne began his collegiate career as the director of alumni relations at his alma mater Idaho State and then served as executive director of the New Mexico Lobo Club from 1976-79. He was the assistant athletic director for external operations at San Diego State from 1980-82.

Throughout his career, Byrne has been recognized with the highest awards an athletics administrator can receive. Among his many accolades, honors include the U.S. Sports Academy 2007 Carl Maddox Sports Management Award; the 2002 winner of the National Football Foundation John L. Toner Award; the 1999 Central Region National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) Director of the Year; president of NACDA in 1991-92; and the National Athletic Fundraisers Association Fundraiser of the Year in 1985.

Byrne is a 1967 graduate of Idaho State University, where he also served as student body president. He earned an MBA in 1971.

Byrne's wife of more than 40 years is Dr. Marilyn Kent Byrne, who has expertise in leadership development, team building, and executive coaching. The Byrnes have two sons – Bill III and Greg. Bill is a vice president of Visa USA in San Francisco, and Greg is the director of athletics at the University of Arizona. Greg and his wife Regina live in Tucson, Ariz., with their sons Nicholas and Davis.

NCAA Tournament: Make That Six Straight

- Texas A&M made its sixth straight appearance in the NCAA Tournament and 12th overall ... prior to this streak, A&M had never played in consecutive NCAA Tournaments and had not been to the NCAAs since 1987 ... 6 of the Aggies' 12 appearances, and 6 of their 9 NCAA wins, have come since 2006.
- A&M is one of just 12 schools that have made the NCAA Tournament in each of the last 6 seasons ... the Aggies join Duke, Gonzaga, Kansas, Marquette, Michigan State, Pittsburgh, Tennessee, Texas, Villanova, Wisconsin and Xavier in that elite field.
- Texas A&M finished 5-4 against teams that earned bids to the NCAA Tournament.

Racking Up the Ws

- Texas A&M (24-9) reached the 24-win mark for the fifth straight year and only the seventh in the program's 99-year history.
- Only three A&M teams totaled more wins than the 2010-11 Aggie squad: 2006-07 (27), 1979-80 (26) and 2007-08 (25).
- The Aggies recorded their seventh consecutive 20 win season ... before this stretch, which began in 2004-05, A&M had six in its entire history.
- With a 71-66 win over Iowa State on Feb. 16, Texas A&M secured its seventh consecutive 20-win season ... before this stretch, which started with the 2004-05 season, Aggie basketball had six 20-win seasons in its entire history ... A&M's other 20-win campaigns were in 1974-75, 1975-76, 1978-79, 1979-80, 1981-82 and 1985-86.
- A&M, Kansas and Texas are the only Big 12 schools that have won at least 20 games in each of the last seven seasons.

Emerging Big 12 Power

- Texas A&M opened the 2009 Big 12 campaign with a 3-7 record ... from that point on (starting with an 81-66 win over Texas on Feb. 16 of that year), the Aggies have posted a 27-11 Big 12 record (6-0 to close 2009, 11-5 in 2010 and 10-6 in 2011) ... it's the second-best record over that span among conference teams, trailing only Kansas (34-4).
- Only two A&M teams won more Big 12 games than the 2011 Aggies (10): 2007 (13) and 2010 (11).
- The Aggies posted back-to-back 10-plus win seasons in Big 12 play for just the second time ever (2006-2007) ... it is only the second time in the last 25 years that an A&M team has accomplished that feat ... prior to '06-07, the last time an Aggie squad recorded consecutive double-digit win seasons in conference play was in 1985 (10) and 1986 (12).
- 2011 was A&M's third consecutive winning season in Big 12 play ... A&M finished 9-7 in 2009 and 11-5 last year ... it marked the first time since the late 60s (1967-70) that a Texas A&M team finished above .500 in league action for three straight seasons.
- Texas A&M won its fifth straight Big 12 game with a victory over Oklahoma (Feb. 23), matching the third-longest Big 12 win streak in school history ... before 2008, a Big 12 win streak of at least 4 games had happened just three times in school history.
- 2011 marked the seventh consecutive year that the Aggies won at least 8 Big 12 games ... A&M had never won more than 6 Big 12 games prior to 2005.
- Over the last three Big 12 seasons (2009-11), Texas A&M is a combined 18-6 in the back half of the Big 12 schedule (final 8 games of each year) ... the Aggies closed league play 6-2 in 2009, 6-2 in 2010 and 6-2 in 2011.
- The Aggies won 4 of their first 5 Big 12 games, matching the 2006-07 team for the best Big 12 start in school history.
- The Aggies have won 49 Big 12 games since the start of the 2007 league season ... prior to that, A&M had totaled only 43 victories in the first 10 years of Big 12 play.

Aggie Trends

- Texas A&M was 16-2 when leading (or tied) heading in to the locker room ... the Aggies overcame halftime deficits 7 times.
- The Aggies were a perfect 20-0 when having the lead with 5 minutes to play.
- A&M was 23-6 when it held foes to under 50% shooting ... 22-2 when the Aggies held opponents to under 45% from the floor ... and 14-0 when foes shot less than 40%.
- One of A&M's goals every game was to make more free throws than the opponent shoots, which emphasizes the need to get to the charity stripe ... the strategy proved true in 2011, as the Aggies went 20-2 when they shot more free throws then their opponents.
- Texas A&M emerged victorious in 22 of 25 games when it won the rebounding battle.
- The Aggies were 23-4 when totaling 10 or more assists.
- The Aggies were 21-6 when holding foes to under 70 points.
- Five of A&M's 9 losses came by 9 or fewer points ... two (BC and Baylor) went down to the final possession, and a third (Nebraska) was a one-possession game with 1:11 to play.
- Texas A&M averaged 15.0 points off turnovers per game ... the Aggies were 13-5 when recording more points off turnovers than their opponent.
- Texas A&M scored at least 40 points in the paint in four games ... A&M was 22-5 when scoring at least 20 points in the paint.
- Three players averaged at least 5.0 rebounds per game—Nathan Walkup (5.5), Khris Middleton (5.2) and David Loubeau (5.0) ... by comparison just one did so last season—Bryan Davis (8.1) ... it was the first time since the 2001-02 season that at least 3 Aggies averaged at least 5 boards per game.
- Texas A&M has won nearly 75 percent of its games since the start of the 2006-07 season (124-45, .734) ... the Aggies are 167-63 (.726) since the start of the '04-05 campaign.

Road Warriors

- Texas A&M played 7 of its final 11 games away from Reed Arena (at Baylor, Kansas, Oklahoma State, Colorado and Texas Tech; Missouri and Texas at Sprint Center in Kansas City, Florida State in Chicago) ... the Aggies went 7-4 over that span.
- Texas A&M went 9-7 away from Reed Arena ... in those games, the Aggies held opponents to 62.6 points and 42.4 percent shooting per game.
- A&M's Big 12 road record (4-4) trailed only Kansas (7-1) and Texas (6-2) ... the Aggies, Horns and Jayhawks were a combined 17-7 away from home in league play, while the other nine teams were a combined 12-60.

Success Against Ranked Teams

- The Aggies went 4-4 against ranked opponents, picking up a 54-51 win over Temple (#20 USAT/ESPN, #21 AP) on Nov. 28 at the Old Spice Classic in Orlando, a 63-62 win over Washington (#21 AP, #22 USAT/ESPN) on Dec. 11 at Reed Arena, a 91-89 home victory over Missouri (#12 USAT/ESPN, #15 AP) on Jan. 15, and a 64-56 defeat of Kansas State (#24 USAT/ESPN) on Jan. 22 ... the Aggies' only losses came to Texas (3 times) and Kansas (1) ... 3 of the 4 losses came away from home.
- The four wins against ranked opponents ties for the second-most in school history and was one shy of the all-time record, held by the 1978-79 team (5) ... both the 2006-07 and 2009-10 teams had 4 wins vs ranked foes.

Big 12 Honors

- Texas A&M placed three on the coaches' All-Big 12 teams ... sophomore Khris Middleton (2nd team), junior David Loubeau (3rd team) and senior BJ Holmes (honorable mention) ... it was the first honor of its kind for all three.
- It marked only the third time that the Aggies placed at least three on the coaches' All-Big 12 squads, joining the 2005 (Antoine Wright, Acie Law, Joseph Jones) and 2007 (Acie Law, Joseph Jones, Antanas Kavaliauskas, Josh Carter) teams.

Saluting the Seniors

- A&M's senior class (Marshall Carrell, Andrew Darko, BJ Holmes, Derrek Lewis, Nathan Walkup) went down as the third-winningest in school history ... the group finished their careers with a 97-39 record, trailing only the classes of 2010 (100) and 2009 (98) in victories.
- The Class of '11 was the only one in school history to record three consecutive winning seasons in Big 12 play ... was only the third to advance to four straight NCAA Tournaments ... and became just the fourth to record four straight 20-win seasons.

• The Class of '11 finished its career a perfect 39-0 in non-conference home games, including wins over LSU, Arizona and Washington ... the class finished its career with a 62-9 record at Reed Arena ... the seniors played in front of the six largest crowds in school history.

• The 2011 seniors led the team to a 13-game win streak, the longest in 91 years and the third-longest in program history.

Down to the Wire

• Texas A&M went 7-2 in "last possession" games (3 or fewer points, or OT) ... the Aggies recorded a 1-point win over Washington (63-62), a 1-point win at Oklahoma State (67-66), a 2-point win over Missouri (91-89), and 3-point wins over Temple (54-51), Colorado (73-70) and Texas Tech (70-67) ... the Aggies took Arkansas to overtime before emerging victorious, 71-62 ... A&M's 2-point losses this year came to Boston College (65-67) and Baylor (74-76).

• Overall, A&M was 8-2 in games decided by fewer than 5 points ... and 11-5 in games decided by fewer than 10 points.

Let's Keep Playing

• The Aggies set a school record with 3 OT wins.

• Texas A&M's back-to-back OT games with Baylor (Feb. 5) and Colorado (Feb. 9) marked just the third time in school history the Aggies have played consecutive overtime games ... the most recent came in the fall of 2003, when A&M went extra with Grambling (2OT) and Houston (OT) ... the only other time it occurred in school history was in 1984 (SMU and TCU).

• A&M's 73-70 win at Colorado on Feb. 9 was the Aggies' first overtime win on the road since an 86-78 win at Alabama in the fall of 2008.

• The victory in Boulder marked only the Aggies' second road OT victory in Big 12 history ... the other came at Iowa State in 2006 (86-81).

Home, Sweet Home

• A&M finished with a 15-2 home record, a feat due in no small part to the Aggies' defensive effort all season long ... opponents shot 40.2 percent inside Reed and averaged 59.2 points per game.

• The Aggies are the only Big 12 team to win at least 15 home games for the last seven consecutive seasons.

• Only 3 teams shot better than 45 percent on A&M's home floor—Missouri (52.2), Baylor (51.8) and Texas (50.0).

• Only 2 teams scored more than 70 points at Reed, with both games going to OT—Missouri (89) and Baylor (76).

• A&M has won 33 of its last 36 home games, including 16 of its last 19 in Big 12 play ... the Aggies are 46-5 at home since the start of the 2008-09 season with an 19-5 mark in conference games ... those losses have come to Kansas (#1), Texas (#3), Oklahoma (#5), Baylor and Kansas State.

• The Aggies are 80-8 (.909) at home since the start of the 2006-07 season and are 112-14 (.889) since the start of the 2004-05 campaign.

• A&M has won 28 of its last 29 home games against unranked opponents (12 of last 13 in Big 12 play).

• The Aggies have won 60 straight non-conference games at Reed Arena ... the streak dates back to the start of the 2005-06 season and includes wins over Arizona, Alabama, LSU and Washington, among others ... the last home non-conference loss for the Aggies was to St. Joseph's (58-51) in the 2005 NIT quarterfinals ... A&M is 92-9 all-time in non-conference games at Reed (.911).

• Texas A&M has won 73 consecutive regular-season non-conference home games ... the last non-conference team to beat the Aggies at Reed Arena was Texas A&M-Corpus Christi (82-80) in 2003.

• Texas A&M has averaged crowds of 9,000 or better for five straight seasons (averaged 9,000 in 2010-11).

Battling Back

• Texas A&M erased four double-digit deficits en route to victories (10 points vs Arkansas, 10 points vs McNeese State, 12 points vs Missouri, 10 points at Texas Tech).

• In the last 3 minutes of games, the Aggie defense held foes to 30.9 percent shooting (51-of-165) from the field and 23.9 percent (16-of-67) from 3-point range.

Cracking the Top 10

• Texas A&M earned its first top-10 ranking in over three years in January, checking in at No. 10 in the ESPN/USA Today Coaches' Poll (Jan. 17) ... the last time the Aggies sat in the national top 10 was on Nov. 26, 2007, when they were ranked ninth in both major polls.

• It also marked just the fifth time in school history that a Texas A&M team has broken the top 10 in a season, joining the 1959-60, 2006-07 and 2007-08 squads ... A&M's school-record ranking in the polls is No. 6, set in the 2006-07 season.

Hot Start

• Texas A&M matched the best 20-game start in school history with a 17-3 record to open the year.

• Of note, the 1919-20 team had the best start (and finish) in school history, completing the year a perfect 19-0.

13 in a Row

• Texas A&M rattled off 13 straight wins over just under a two-month span from Nov. 26-Jan. 15 ... the 13-game streak was the longest in 91 years and the third-longest in school history, and included wins over then No. 12 Missouri, then No. 20 Temple, then No. 21 Washington and against Arkansas on a neutral court in Dallas.

• Over the 13-game win streak, Aggie foes averaged just 57.4 points per game and were out-rebounded by a margin of 10.4 boards ... they were held to 38.6 percent shooting from the field and 28.6 percent from 3-point range ... the combined record of the teams on the streak (as of Jan. 17) was 127-88 (.591).

Individual Notables

• Senior B.J. Holmes finished his career among the school's all-time leaders in several categories ... Holmes hit 184 treys, which ranks third all-time (Josh Carter, 299; Bernard King, 232) ... his 465 3-point attempts ranks fourth all-time ... Holmes hit 39.6 percent of his career 3-point attempts, ranking third in school history ... he also ranks sixth all-time in games played (130) and seventh in free-throw percentage (.797) ... Holmes ended his career with 993 points.

• Senior Nathan Walkup ranks seventh all-time in games played (128) ... Walkup ended his career with 81 3-pointers, grabbed 403 rebounds and scored 656 points.
